

2009 NCAA® Women's Final Four® Girls Junior Journalism Workshop

Who: NCAA, Margo Garvin Sports & Entertainment (workshop staff), 20 middle school age girls (participants) and college students (team mentors).

What: Media professionals will conduct a day of fun and learning in sport and journalism at the open team practices featuring the four teams involved in the 2009 Women's Final Four.

Where/When: Event will be held at Scottrade Center from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Participants will receive official NCAA credentials, meet and greet all workshop members.

Why: To interest girls in the role and responsibilities of journalists. Workshop participants will observe Women's Final Four team practices, coaches' press conferences, and learn radio, television and blogging techniques.

Stories generated by Workshop participants will be posted at www.NCAA.com/finalfour in the days ahead.